Isolation & Quarantine

MGT 433 Isolation & Quarantine for Rural Communities

- Provides officials with the knowledge, skills, and abilities to effectively plan for and respond to events requiring isolation and/or quarantine of their populations in a variety of low and high-impact situations. Serves as prerequisite introduction for the discipline-specific courses below.

MGT 431 Rural Isolation & Quarantine Planning: Private Sector Readiness

- Provides information for private sector businesses in small, rural and remote communities on methods to effectively plan for isolation and/or quarantine events which may impact business operations, supply chain, customers, and workforce.

Isolation & Quarantine (Continued)

MGT 432 Isolation & Quarantine for Rural Public Safety Personnel

- Prepares public safety personnel in small, rural, and remote communities for response to isolation and/or quarantine events where public safety plays a key role. The course explores authorities, strategies, statutes, and tactical issues related to these specialized situations.

PER 308 Rural Isolation & Quarantine for Public Health and Healthcare Professionals

- Consists of customized training modules tailored for the public health and healthcare fields. As a critical support resource in isolation and quarantine events, participants will become familiar with policies, guidance, and resources to assist officials in planning and response.

The screenshot shows the homepage of RuralTraining.org. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for Home, Search, and Contact, along with social media icons for YouTube, Twitter, and Facebook. Below this is a header section with the RDPC logo (Rural Domestic Preparedness Consortium) and three main menu items: TRAINING (Find training in your community or online), RESOURCES (Tools and resources for first responders), and ABOUT US (News and info about the RDPC). The main content area features a large blue banner with the text "Train Online" and "Our online courses let you train at your own pace, on your own schedule." A "Register now" button is visible. To the right of the banner is a photo of a police officer. Below the banner, there are two columns of content. The left column is titled "Training for First Responders" and includes a quote from Milton Agay, a Berrien Springs Michigan Police Department officer, stating: "There is no other way agencies our size would be able to receive that kind of training without the RDPC bringing it to us. With two nuclear power plants, we have high-risk infrastructure to watch out for." The right column is titled "Upcoming Training" and lists three courses: MGT 405 (AUG 7) in Warrenton, MO; MGT 335 (AUG 8) in Wauseon, OH; and MGT 383 (AUG 8) in Halifax, NC. A "See More Training" link is provided. At the bottom, there are three boxes: "Request a Course" (Emergency events in big cities), "Train Online" (Train on your own schedule), and "Responder Toolbox" (Check out our library of free tools and information).
