CHECK ON YOUR NEIGHBOR: FEMA AND OHIO TEAM UP TO PROMOTE SAFETY AND WELLNESS

COLUMBUS, OH – The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) in collaboration with the Ohio Emergency Management Agency (OEMA) are asking each and every person to take action, get in touch with friends, family and loved ones, and continue to help spread the word about how to stay safe during this ongoing heat with the “Check on Your Neighbor” campaign.

As heat remains an issue, this campaign encourages citizens to continue to reach out to those around you – be it friends, family, or a member of your church – to share valuable information and resources. As part of the toolkit, please find a flyer and an attachment with valuable links, resources and safety information to post, communicate and distribute.

For heat related safety tips visit www.ready.gov/heat or www.ready.ohio.gov. Individuals seeking immediate resources are encouraged to call 2-1-1.

FEMA’s mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain, and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from, and mitigate all hazards.
